DETAILED ACTION

Claims 32-62 are pending.

Election/Restrictions

I. Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claims 32-60 and 62 drawn to a composition comprising a core linked/attached to a hyperbranched polymer and a biologically active moiety.

Group II, claim 61, drawn to a method of targeted-delivery.

The inventions listed as Groups I and II do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons:

The claims lack a special technical feature, because the shared/common technical feature among the groups, as taught by VAN HEST (U:PTO-892: van Hest, J. C. M. , et al., "Polystyrene - Poly(propylene imine) Dendrimers: Synthesis, Characterization, and Association Behavior of a New Class of Amphiphiles" Chem. Eur. J. 1996, 2(12), 1616-1626.) was known at the time of the invention. The claims are drawn to a composition comprising (a) a hyperbranched polymer; (b) a core; (c) a biologically active moiety; (d) a linker; (e) (a) attached to (b); and (f) (c) attached to (a) via (d); however, Van Hest teaches the composition, by teaching the composition of formula (14):

The composition (14) comprises a dendrimeric (hyperbranched) composition having a central/core structure comprising  $[\text{OCH}_2\text{CH}_2\text{CH}_2\text{N}]$  and amine ( $\text{NH}_2$ ) moieties; wherein the dendrimers are attached to the core structure and wherein the  $\text{NH}_2$  moieties are linked to the core via the  $n^{\text{th}}$ -generation dendrimer.

Thus, the shared/common technical feature does not make a contribution over the prior art and cannot be a special technical feature.

II. Election of Species

This application contains claims directed to more than one species of the generic invention. These species are deemed to lack unity of invention because they are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

The species are as follows:

The myriad of claimed/disclosed compositions comprising the myriad of disclosed structural cooperative arrangements of the myriad of components as disclosed on pages 13 through 87; formulae I-XXIV; and compounds (1)-(91), etc.

Applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single species (i.e. a single chemical with defined structural cooperative relations of the components (a)-(f)) to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable.

The reply must also identify the claims readable on the elected species, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered non-responsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

The claims are deemed to correspond to the species listed above in the following manner:

The claims recite various components comprising the compound of claim 32, including, for example: physical/intrinsic properties (claim 33); degree/units of branching/polymerization (B,Bc,Bfg, B', etc.)(claims 34,35,48-53,59); "further groups" (claim 36); capping groups (C)(claims 37-41); biological moiety (claims 42-47); and linkers (L,L',Lfg',etc.) (claims 54-58,60).

The following claim(s) are generic: 32, 61, and 62.

The species listed above do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, the species lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons:

Compound (14) as taught by VAN HEST (U) , supra, teaches that the composition common/core structural feature of the instant claims was known at the time of the invention and thus the technical feature cannot be a special technical feature. Furthermore, since the myriad of the claimed/disclosed functional groups/moieties are linked by the common feature, the compositions are not linked by a special technical feature and therefore unity of invention is lacking.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To preserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Note Regarding Joint Inventorship

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

Note Regarding Rejoinder Practice

The examiner has required restriction between product and process claims. Where applicant elects claims directed to the product, and the product claims are subsequently found allowable, withdrawn process claims that depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of the allowable product claim will be considered for rejoinder. All claims directed to a nonelected process invention must require all the limitations of an allowable product claim for that process invention to be rejoined.

In the event of rejoinder, the requirement for restriction between the product claims and the rejoined process claims will be withdrawn, and the rejoined process claims will be fully examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. Thus, to be allowable, the rejoined claims must meet all criteria for patentability including the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 101, 102, 103 and 112. Until all claims to the elected product are found allowable, an otherwise proper restriction requirement between product claims and process claims may be maintained. Withdrawn process claims that are not commensurate in scope with an allowable product claim will not be rejoined. See MPEP § 821.04(b). Additionally, in order to retain the right to rejoinder in accordance with the above policy, applicant is advised that the process claims should be amended during prosecution to require the limitations of the product claims. Failure to do so may result in a loss of the right to rejoinder. Further, note that the prohibition against double patenting rejections of 35 U.S.C. 121 does not apply where the restriction requirement is withdrawn by the examiner before the patent issues. See MPEP § 804.01.
